Digital Learning Discourse
(Public Panel Discussion)

Even before COVID-19, student and teacher learning has increasingly been taking place in remote settings that allow for interaction and discourse. Widely available digital technologies afford flexibility in term of time and space. However, they also entail certain constraints on learning discourse. In this public event, experts on productive talk in classroom discourse and discourse for teacher learning will discuss new opportunities and challenges of Digital Learning Discourse.

Moderator: Prof. Dr. Dominik Petko, University of Zurich, Switzerland
Guests: Prof. Dr. Christa Asterhan, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel
              Prof. Dr. Sara Hennessy, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom
              Prof. Dr. Sten Ludvigsen, University of Oslo, Norway
              Prof. Dr. Lindsay Clare Matsumura, University of Pittsburgh, USA

Date: Thursday, September 8th, 8.15-9.30 pm
Registration: Free entrance
               On-Site (Monte Verità; Strada Collina 84, Ascona, Auditorium): info@csf.ethz.ch
               Online via Zoom: adld-conference@ife.uzh.ch

This hybrid event is part of the conference «Advancing (Digital) Learning Discourse» and open for all interested researchers, practitioners and the general public